MR. MOTLEY'S INSTRUCTIONS.

It has been reliably ascertained that the instructions of this Government to Minister Motley do not suggest any mode of adjusting the pending questions between the United States and Great Britain, nor do they require him at present to propose the reopening of negotiations for the settlement of the Alabama or other claims. Our Government will act with the deliberation due to this important subject, and carefully avoid any cause of offense, while firmly presenting the American side of the question to Her Majesty's Government when the occasion shall require. No one connected with the Administration, including the President, nor does the British Minister, apprehend any injurious consequences from the almost unanimous rejection of the Alabama claims treaty by the Senate, and this is stated on the authority of gentlemen who, fearful of serious difficulties, made special and private inquiry in official circles, and thus satisfied themselves of the truth of this statement.

THE VIRGINIA ELECTION.

Information has been received here that a certain prominent gentleman in Richmond, after a conversation with Gen. Canby, left him with the impression that the vote on the Constitution will not take place on the fourth Thursday of May, but probably between the 1st and 10th of July, so as not to interfere with the harvest. He also desires thorough registration, and is anxious that the citizens of all parties shall interest themselves in securing a full and fair vote. The probability is that President Grant will be governed by Gen. Canby's suggestions.

GEN. R. E. LEE.

Gen. R. E. Lee, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Taggart, of Baltimore, called on the President this morning, and had an interview. It was merely of courtesy, and of short duration. Minister Motley was present.

The Newspaper Scandal—What Mr. Greeley Says.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 1.—Mr. Greeley, in an article signed with his initials, in the Tribune to-day, says: The Young correspondence, three-fourths of it, was a matter in which the public had and could have no legitimate interest, the blazoning of which could gratify no decent curiosity, and to print which at all was simply an outrage. Mr Greeley expresses the belief that the statement that Mr. Young has been abusing his position on the Tribune or his influence as a journalist, to promote his private ends, and especially to procure loans or subsidies for him or his friends' Philadelphia venture or ventures, is false and unfounded, and trusting that the one touching the Associated Press will prove equally so, calls for a full investigation of the same by the members of the Associated Press, before some impartial arbiter or tribunal, proposing to take no part in that scrutiny unless made a party defendant, but insisting that Mr. Young, or whoever may be suspected or implicated, shall not be stabbed in the dark, but shall have the fullest opportunity for explanation and defense.

Mr. Greeley concludes as follows: "We beg that it be understood that Mr. Young has not been removed, nor suspended, nor in any manner condemned by us, as has been mistakenly asserted by the Sun and telegraphed all over the country. It is not our custom to pass judgment on any one on the strength of a mere indictment, especially when the finding of it was plainly impelled by envy, malice and blighted aspiration."

Pacific Railroad Completion—Celebration of the Event.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—The Central Pacific Railroad Company yesterday finished their portion of the road, excepting the two connecting rails, which Gov. Stanford will lay on Friday or Saturday of the present. A celebration of the event will be held in this city and Sacramento, for which extensive preparations are being made.

The further survey of the Salt Lake and Columbia River Railroad is abandoned for the present and the surveyor recalled.

NEW YORK CITY.

Dispatches from Indian Commission—The Peruvian Monitors—Damages Awarded Against Gen. Dix—Storm on Sunday.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 1.—The following dispatch was received by the Indian Peace Commission in this city: "In camp near Wachita Mountains, Indian Territory, April 13th, 1869, via Kansas City, April 29th, 1869.

"To Edward Cromwell, Esq., New York: We started for Fort Bascom, New Mexico, this A. M., via Antelope Hill, Lieutenant Whipple's trail, south bank of the Canadian River. We have an infantry escort of twenty men of Company C, Eighth Infantry, under Lieutenant B. T. Jacobs of Company E, with an ambulance for sick, and two forage wagons. Our guard is armed with the Springfield needle gun and Colonel Boon has provided us with a good supply of presents for friendly Kiowas and Camanches. Henry Bradley, the Cheyenne and Arrapahoe interpreter, accompanies us. It will take about three weeks to walk the distance. General Grierson's expedition, under Lieut. W. R. Harman, which went into Texas to recover the ponies stolen from the Arrapahoes, returned yesterday, bringing with him seventeen horses, greatly to the delight of Little Raven and his tribe. One Chief was shot and three taken prisoners. [Signed] VINCENT COLYER."

The Peruvian Legation has received letters from St. Thomas, dated 22d ultimo, announcing the safe arrival at that post, on the 22d, of the monitor Manco Copac, in tow of the transport Maranon. Both the monitors were there in good condition and all on board quite well. The Peruvian Consul states that at the time the report of the loss of the other monitor, the Athualipa, was circulated, she was lying in the harbor of St. Thomas, where she has since remained.

An Ulster county jury has awarded $10,000 damages to David D. Bell, of Rochester, against Jno. A. Dix, on account of the former's confinement in Fort Lafayette.

A severe northeasterly storm prevailed here from yesterday morning until this evening, rain falling steadily during that time and occasionally almost in torrents. CHICAGO.

Policemen Manslaughter Case—Death from Trychina.

CHICAGO, May 1.—The jury in the case of Tyler, the policemen manslaughter case, at two o'clock this afternoon, after being out over three hours, returned a verdict of not guilty, and the policemen were set at liberty.

The body of Mrs. Thomas Teft, who died in Elgin, about three weeks since, in a mysterious manner, was yesterday exhumed and microscopically examined by the medical fraternity of that city. Muscles from different parts of the body showed trychina to exist, not only in large numbers, but still alive, some three weeks after the interment. The case excites much interest, as it is the only one of the kind ever known in that section

Church Destroyed by Fire.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 2.—About half past eight o'clock this evening a fire was discovered in the tower of the First Presbyterian Church, in the rear of City Hall. The tower was destroyed and the interior of the church badly damaged before the flames were suppressed. The chapel adjoining was somewhat damaged by the tower of the church falling upon it. The fire was the work of an incendiary. The church was in process of demolition and the organ had been removed. The insurance is ten thousand dollars, more than enough to cover the loss. The church was built in 1824.

Coal Miners' Strike—Safe Robbery.

At Wyoming, on Friday night, the safe of J. C. Schoomaker & Son was blown open and robbed of seven thousand dollars in government and Lackawanna and Bloomsburg Railroad bonds, also three hundred dollars in currency. A reward of five hundred dollars has been offered for the arrest of the burglars.

—The Southern Opinion, Richmond, Va., announced its last publication Saturday. The editor says he has for some time thought that perhaps the mission of the Southern Opinion had been fulfilled, and adds that "the distinct Southern principles upon which the paper was founded, are dead in the hearts of the people. Another fact, which we cannot but recognize: no cause, however just and good, can long outlive defeat."

—The wagon and plow manufactory of J. H. Ramsey, at Nashville, was destroyed by fire last Friday night. Mr. Ramsey succeeded in saving only a portion of his tools. His loss is about $6,000, on which he has an insurance of $2,200. The building, the old rebel gun factory, was partly occupied as a school house, and accommodated about five hundred colored pupils. That part was not injured. The other part was completely wrecked. Insurance $10,000, in Nashville offices.

THE BUTLER HOMICIDE.

Conclusion of Mr. McJunkin's Argument for the Commonwealth—Charge of Judge McGuffin—Verdict of Murder in First Degree—Motion for New Trial.

FRIDAY MORNING.

Court opened at 8½ o'clock.

Mr. McJunkin resumed his argument, and spoke first of the attempt by the defence to show that some one else had done all the mischief in that neighborhood. He said that there had been so much firing into houses that all men stood in terror of their lives, so that the bravest and the boldest feared to look out of his door when his dog barked. He argued that defendant had connected himself with all this mischief when he threatened to take the life of this girl, if she would not give him her hand in marriage. He dwelt, with great force, on the enormity of supposing for a moment that "that little, simple, truthful country girl, Mary McCandless, that little, truthful, simple country girl, should have committed perjury. He noted that counsel had been prompted to say that one of these letters had been taken out of "a yellow cover novel." He urged that the defendant had not told his counsel what was in these letters, so that by cross examination they could have made her admit that she had mistaken their contents. To the argument of Mr. Thompson, that the Commonwealth had failed to put Emma Zilla McCandless on the stand to corroborate the testimony of Mary McCandless, although they had brought her to court, and kept her here six days, he retorted, that the defence should have called Emma Zilla. He said nothing of the open boast in court, by Commonwealth's counsel, that they would bring Emma Zilla to explain the contradictory statements of Mary, who first said she saw her sister receive these letters, that they were sealed and directed in the hand writing of Taylor Hockenberry, and afterwards that Emma Zilla had read one of them before her sister received it, and that she and Emma Zilla had talked them over since the commission of the murder, and that this was the reason she remembered the contents of the fatal letter, which was not given before the inquest.

The able and eloquent speaker next passed to the question of the whereabouts of the prisoner. It would be difficult to conceive of more power in putting together such facts as suited his purpose, and ignoring all he did not care to have remembered. He argued that the fact of Wm. English having slept with prisoner the night of the murder was very suspicious, but ignored the fact that it was but a very short time after they went to bed that Taylor was aroused to go to Mr. McCandless, that he had been out all night, giving word of the murder, and that he could not have made any arrangement with English without confessing his crime before he was charged with it. He urged the fact that Wm. English made his mark and could not write his name, although he was thirteen or fourteen years of age. He gave great weight to the statement of the prisoner that he had been in a particular part of the church, and that witnesses had testified that they were in that part of the church and did not see him. He was very impressive about the influences of the sanctuary, and the Christian example and prayers of prisoner's good old uncle, who took him every Sabbath to church and said prayers at home, and the neglect of prisoner to say his. John White's testimony was made a rock of adamant. John said he was in church, in a position to have seen prisoner, and did not see him, ignoring the fact that John did not know whether he had gone to church alone or in company with others, what was done in church, or if he went home alone or in company.

Mr. McJunkin went over the testimony of the people from the church with evident and terrible effect. He commanded intense attention. The defendant had threatened to commit this crime; it is committed; he is called upon to say where he was and makes a false statement. There is an hour and three-quarters of this fearful night in which the defendant has not accounted for his whereabouts; he might have been seen by English in church, and yet have committed the crime. [This view is new.] He traveled over the distances, and directions, and time, which is measured, in all the testimony, by the rising of the moon. He made it appear that prisoner could have reached the point at which Isaac Brannon heard the click after the time he left Mr. Graham's. No word of the necessary detention in getting the gun; no word of the improbability of the prisoner going away round to the opposite side of Mr. McCandless' house, from Mr. Graham's. It was perfectly fearful, this importance given to the confused account of this bashful, shrinking prisoner, in the first confusion of being charged with this frightful crime, while standing before the mangled corpse of the girl he had madly loved, killed in the general shooting which had been going on in the neighborhood, which has for two generations, been in a grand family fight, so that it is described as a bundle of serpents inextricably entangled and stinging, hissing indiscriminately. That, in a country neighborhood, he, a quiet, shrinking boy, who, it is proved, never sought society; who was that evening sick,—that he should not have been seen by more than one, and that that one might have been mistaken, is a circumstance which becomes terrible, and the carefully expressed want of personal feeling on the part of the attorney took off the edge of the sympathy which might be felt for the prisoner on account of the personal abuse which had been heaped upon him by other counsel.

Mr. McJunkin was employed by Mr. McCandless, and this morning his tact has taught him to drop the role of exciting sympathy for "the lacerated heart of the bereaved parents." He would be glad if the jury can clear the prisoner, can shake hands with him; would be glad to see the prisoner ride home in the wagon, with his uncle and aunt, sit down at the old board, and shed tears with them over the grave of his cousin. But he solemnly reminded them that if they, through false sympathy, should acquit the prisoner, and he be guilty, they will be responsible for the crimes he may commit in future. Should he go home and conclude to transfer his addresses to Mary McCandless, who it would have been more appropriate he should have loved at first, as nearer his own age, and she should reject him, and he should shoot Mary, this jury will be the murderer of Mary.

It is not improbable that the counsel is not alone in thinking that the prisoner should have loved Mary instead of her older sister. It would have been more appropriate and probably more acceptable.

Mr. McJunkin closed his argument at ten minutes after ten o'clock, and the jury took five minutes recess.

[In to-morrow's GAZETTE we will publish the able charge of Judge McGuffin in full.]

VERDICT OF THE JURY.

The jury went out at twenty minutes to twelve o'clock, and the Court adjourned. At twenty minutes to two the bell rang to give notice that they had made up their minds. The room was soon densely packed with eager, excited people, the judges took their seats, the prisoner was brought in, the jury came and took their seats, and the crier opened Court. The jury and prisoner were ordered to stand up and look upon each other, "Jury, look upon the prisoner; Prisoner, look upon the jury." He was directed to hold up his hand. The Clerk asked, "Gentlemen, how do you find? Who shall speak for you?" The foreman said, faintly, "Guilty of murder in the first degree," and handed the sealed verdict to the Court.

Mr. Thompson called for the poll. The Clerk called over their names and each one replied, "Guilty of murder in the first degree."

The prisoner bore it better than he has done many portions of his trial, shook hands with his guardian and counsel, and went away with the Sheriff. The jury was discharged; the audience dispursed. Prisoner's counsel moved for a new trial. The motion was entertained. The Court was adjourned until the second Monday of June, and this act of the drama has ended.

Vallandigham's Explanation of his Action in the New York Convention.

[From the Dayton Ledger, April 27.]

A MISTAKE CORRECTED.

A mistake in judgment by Mr. Vallandigham caused the defeat of Chase. There was one hour in which, if Vallandigham had not done anything, Chase would have been nominated. Seymour's declination, after he had been nominated by McCook, was made in good faith, and would have been received as final if he had not been overpowered by Vallandigham's furious declaration that the public safety demanded the nomination of Horatio Seymour. If Seymour had not been nominated just then, the nomination of Chase would have taken place within an hour.—Cincinnati Commercial.

According to our information, the facts are exactly the reverse of all this. Within much less than that "one hour," had "Vallandigham not done anything," another man than Chase would have been nominated. There may have been—no doubt was—an unfortunate necessity; but there was no "mistake in judgment." Certainly Seymour declined the nomination in good faith; he was sincerely for Chase, and had he possessed the presence of mind and boldness to have anticipated "Vallandigham's furious declaration," so-called (of which we had just had previous notice) by concluding his speech with the suggestion of Chase, Vallandigham would have been silent; a similar scene would have followed, Chase have been nominated, and President to-day, and the Democratic party, with its bold, brave men at the front, in power. After the multiplied treacheries and stupidities of the Democratic managers from October, 1867, to July, 1868, there was but one thing which could and would have commanded success—the nomination of Salmon P. Chase, who, unlike Andrew Johnson, had brains enough to comprehend that if he was to overpower the strong-minded, strong-willed audacity of the Republican leaders, it was alone by antagonizing to it the strong-minded, strong-willed audacity of the "Copperheads" of the Democratic party. He was not nominated; wherefor and by reason of the premises, Grant and his relatives now hold place, if not power; while Seymour crops his hay, milks his cows and churns his butter near "pent-up Utica;" Blair, in silent retirement, no longer even a railroad director, chews the cud of sweet and bitter fancies over Grant's profoundly hidden capacity to develop himself into an American Cæsar, cleaving to the White House till carried thence a corpse; Pendleton, from the heights of "Bower Place," calmly surveys with musing eye, the greenbacked slopes and pastures of the valleys of Mill Creek and the Licking; McLean creates pleasant parks along the Roman-nosed declivities of Deer Creek; while Vallandigham, no longer concerned about that "great hereafter," whose slow-paced movements he has delivered over to history, contentedly hurls his "furious declarations" at courts and juries in the vicinage of Burnside's raid, vindicating the rights and redressing the wrongs of those venerable gentlemen of ancient family and renown, John Doe and Richard Roe—the aforesaid Seymour, Blair, Pendleton, McLean and Vallandigham, with divers others "to the grand jurors unknown," being all sweetly oblivious to the fact that a New York Convention was ever assembled; and each consoling himself with the heavenly reflection that

"When wicked men bear sway,
The post of honor is a private station."

This consolatory reflection is as essential as it is gratifying; for no party that has the audacity to elect Carl Schurz to the Senate can ever be beaten by a party which stones its prophets and rejects its martyrs.

THE RUSSIAN FAMINE.—The foreign mails bring further particulars of the famine prevailing in the Russian province of Esthonia, on the Black Sea. No rain fell from May 23d to August 18th, 1868, and consequently the crops were burned. Now bread cannot be obtained except for exorbitant prices, and the supplies are very scanty. The wet weather of the present season has made the roads impassable and no assistance can reach the people. Disease has also commenced to afflict the population. The peasants have congregated in large numbers in the villages, in hopes of obtaining food and shelter, and the crowds in their weakened condition are suffering from hunger typhus. Discouraged, and in despair of receiving relief, children are deserting their parents, and parents their children, to wander about the country, begging and plundering.

A Rhinoceros Hunt in New York.

There has been quite a wild animal excitement at Carmel, Putnam county. The rhinoceros of Van Amburgh's menagerie escaped, and seeing Peach Pond, concluded to try a bath. The animal cost about $20,000, and the keepers were aghast at the prospect of losing that sum in the person of the huge and intractable beast. The dog "Jack," of the menagerie, was sent into the water after the monster. The rhinoceros immediately disappeared under the water and remained some time, but finally came up some distance off. The dog immediately made for him, and he for the dog. The dog dodged and got the rhinoceros by the ear. A sharp wrangle ensued, the rhinocerous bellowing like a bull calf. For many minutes the combat raged furiously, till finally the huge beast neared the shore, where he was snared with ropes and led back to his cage.

A Good Homestead Law.

The Legislature of Ohio has passed an act extending the exemption of a homestead from execution for debt from five hundred to one thousand dollars. This measure would have stood the test of public scrutiny if the exemption had been still larger. The amendment, in fact, only carries out the spirit of the original bill, for, when passed, such has been the rise in prices, and the diminution of the value of the circulating medium, that five hundred dollars was fully equal, as a measure of protection to a debtor, to one thousand dollars now.

LOOK TO YOUR FURS.—Furs will soon be laid aside for some eight months, and it is all important that until that time they should be secured against moths—their mortal enemy. Furs are costly, and beautiful as well as useful, but nothing looks worse than shabby furs, made so from the destructive inroads of the moth. The worst thing to be done with furs is to shut them out of sight from the air and forget them. The next worse thing is to put them away damp. Should they become damp by exposure to the rain they should be placed no nearer to the fire than where they will dry slowly. When the season for their use is over they should not be shut up in a tight chest, box or drawer, for more than a few days or a week without being taken out and shaken. Patting them in a drawer that is frequently opened is recommended, in order that they may be frequently seen, and thus be reminded of the necessity of attending to them. To preserve furs perfectly, and without the least fear of moths, frequent airing, shaking, and general cleanliness, together with a good supply of camphor, is the grand specific.

A LADY correspondent writes that she entirely destroyed the insects which infested her rosebushes by the use of quassia, and that the plants thrived better after its use than before. In the report of the Alton, Illinois, Horticultural Society quassia is recommended for destroying black and green insects in cherries. Quassia may be found in any druggist's establishment. Use two ounces to a gallon of water; boil fifteen or twenty minutes. It will also be found effective in destroying many kinds of insects which intest the flower garden.

A CURIOUS branch of industry has lately sprung up in New York—that of preserving in their natural color and form the flowers used as decorations at weddings and funerals. The enterprising artist engaged in the business keeps his eye constantly on the deaths and marriages announced in the newspapers, and loses no time in sending his circular to the parties he supposes to be most deeply interested in preserving mementoes of the joyful or sad event. If this expedient fails of securing the coveted job, he calls with a specimen of his handiwork to solicit it in person.

THE miners' strike, in South Yorkshire, England, has assumed very formidable proportions; 1,700 men are now out of employment, and between 5,000 and 6,000 persons are depending on them for support. They are at present maintained by the Miners' Union, which has a fund of £10,000, and by contributions from other trades.

—The late rains in Alabama are proving very disastrous. Many of the streams are out of their banks and much cotton and corn has been drowned. The rain still continues and the farmers are much depressed.

—A movement is on foot for the separation of the States of Bolivia, Antioquio, Tolima, Coula and Panama from the Colombian Union, with a view to the forming of a separate Republic. A Committee of the House of Representatives have reported a resolution to indict the President of Colombia, with four of his ministers, before the Senate, upon eight different charges.

—A severe westerly gale, on Saturday at the mouth of the Mississippi, swept away the galleries of the light house and the light keeper's dwelling; at the south west pass destroyed the light house boats and blew five feet of water into the light house and dwelling, the buildings settling one foot. The storm also damaged the rigging of vessels at the pass.

THE REGISTRY LAW.

AN ACT further supplemental to an act relative to the elections in this Commonwealth.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That it shall be the duty of each of the assessors within this Commonwealth, on the first Monday in June of each year, to take up the transcript he has received from the county commissioners under the eighth section of the act of 15th April, 1834, and proceed to an immediate revision of the same, by striking therefrom the name of every person who is known by him to have died or removed since the last previous assessment from the district of which he is the assessor, or whose death or removal from the same shall be made known to him, and to add to the same the name of any qualified voter who shall be known by him to have moved into his district since the last previous assessment, or whose removal into the same shall be or shall have been known to him, and also the names of all who shall make claim to him, to be qualified voters therein. As soon as this revision is completed he shall visit every dwelling house in the district and make careful inquiry if any person whose name is on his list has died or removed from this district, and if so to take the same therefrom, or whether any qualified voter resides therein whose name is not on the list, and if so to add the same thereto; and in all cases where a name is added to the list a tax shall forthwith be assessed against the person; and the assessor shall in all cases ascertain, by inquiry, upon what ground the person so assessed claims to be a voter. Upon the completion of this work, it shall be the duty of each assessor as aforosaid to proceed to make out a list, in alphabetical order, of the white freemen, above twenty-one years of age, claiming to be twenty-one years of age, claiming to be qualified voters in the ward, borough, township or district, of which he is the assessor, and opposite each of said names state whether said freeman is or is not a housekeeper; and if he is, the number of his residence, in towns where the same are numbered, and with the street, alley or court in which situated; and if in a town where there are no numbers, the name of the street, alley or court on which said house fronts; also, the occupation of the person; and, where he is not a housekeeper, the occupation, place of boarding, and with whom, and if working for another, the name of the employer, and write opposite each of said names the word "voter;" where any person claims to vote by reason of naturalization, he shall exhibit his certificate thereof to the assessor unless he has been for five consecutive years next preceding a voter in said district; and in all cases where the person has been naturalized, the name shall be marked with the letter "N;" where the person has merely declared his intentions to become a citizen and designs to be naturalized before the next election, the name shall be marked "D. I;" where the claim is to vote by reason of being between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-two, as provided by law, the word "age" shall be entered; and if the person has moved into the election district to reside since the last general election, the letter "R" shall be placed opposite the name. It shall be the further duty of each assessor as aforesaid, upon the completion of the duties herein imposed, to make out a separate list of all new assessments made by him and the amounts assessed upon each, and furnish the same immediately to the county commissioners, who shall immediately add the names to the tax duplicate of the ward, borough, township or district in which they have been assessed.

SEC. 2. On the list being completed and the assessments made as aforesaid, the same shall forthwith be returned to the county commissioners, who shall cause duplicate copies of said lists, with the observations and explanations required to be noted as aforesaid, to be made out as soon as practicable, and placed in the hands of the assessor, who shall, prior to the first of August in each year, put one copy thereof on the door of or on the house where the election of the respective district is required to be held, and retain the other in his possession, for the inspection, free of charge, of any person, resident in the said election district, who shall desire to see the same; and it shall be the duty of the said assessor to add, from time to time, on the personal application of any one claiming the right to vote, the name of such claimant, and mark opposite the name "C. V.," and immediately assess him with a tax, noting, as in all other cases, his occupation, residence, whether a boarder or a housekeeper; if a boarder, with whom he boards; and whether naturalized or designing to be, marking in all such cases the letters, opposite the name, "N," or "D. I.," as the case may be; if the person claiming to be assessed be naturalized, he shall exhibit to the assessor his certificate of naturalization; and if he claims that he designs to be naturalized before the next ensuing election, he shall exhibit the certificate of his declaration of intention; in all cases where any ward, borough, township or election district is divided into two or more precincts, the assessor shall note in all his assessments the election precinct in which each elector resides, and shall make a separate return for each to the county commissioners, in all cases in which a return is required from him by the provisions of this act, and the county commissioners, in making duplicate copies of all such returns, shall make duplicate copies of the names of the voters in each precinct, separately, and shall furnish the same to the assessor; and copies required by this act to be placed on the doors of or on election places on or before the first of August of each year, shall be placed on the door of or on the election place in each of said precincts.

SEC 3. After the assessments have been completed on the tenth day preceding the second Tuesday of October of each year, the assessor shall, on the Monday immediately following, make a return to the county commissioners of the names of all persons assessed by him since the return required to be made by him by the second section of this act, noting opposite each name the observations and explanations required to be noted as aforesaid, and the county commissioners shall thereupon cause the same to be added to the return required by the second section of this act, and a full and correct copy thereof to be made, containing the names of all persons so returned as resident taxables in said ward, borough, township or precinct, and furnish the same, together with the necessary election blanks, to the officers of the election in said ward, borough, township or precinct, on or before six o'clock in the morning of the second Tuesday of October; and no man shall be permitted to vote at the election on that day whose name is not on said list, unless he shall make proof of his right to vote, as hereinafter required.

SEC. 4. On the day of election any person whose name is not on the said list, and claiming the right to vote at said election, shall produce at least one qualified voter of the district as a witness to the residence of the claimant in the district in which he claims to be a voter, for the period of at least ten days next preceding said election, which witness shall take and subscribe a written, or partly written and partly printed affidavit to the facts stated by him, which affidavit shall define nearly where the residence is of the person so claiming to be a voter; and the person so claiming the right to vote shall also take and subscribe a written, or partly written and partly printed affidavit, stating to the best of his knowledge and belief, where and when he was born; that he is a citizen of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and of the United States; that he has resided in the Commonwealth one year, or if formerly a citizen therein and has moved therefrom, that he has resided therein six months next preceding said election; that he has not moved into the district for the purpose of voting therein; that he has paid a State or county tax within two years, which was assessed at least ten days before said election; and, if a naturalized citizen, shall also state when, where and by what court he was naturalized, and shall also produce his certificate of naturalization for examination; the said affidavit shall state when and where the tax claimed to be paid by the affiant was assessed, and when, where and to whom paid; and the tax receipt therefor shall be produced for examination, unless the affiant shall state in his affidavit that it has been lost or destroyed, or that he never received any; but if the parson so claiming the right to vote shall take and subscribe an affidavit, that he is a native born citizen of the United States, (or if born elsewhere, shall state that fact in his affidavit, and shall produce evidence that he has been naturalized, or that he is entitled to citizenship by reason of his father's naturalization); and shall further state in his affidavit that he is, at the time of taking the affidavit, between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-two years; that he has resided in the State one year and in the election district ten days next preceding such election, he shall be entitled to vote, although he shall not have paid taxes; the said affidavits of all persons making such claims, and the affidavits of the witnesses to their residence, shall be preserved by the election board, and at the close of the election they shall be enclosed with the list of voters, tally list and other papers required by law to be filed by the return judge with the prothonotary, and shall remain on file therewith in the prothonotary's office, subject to examination, as other election papers are; if the election officers shall find that the applicant or applicants possess all the legal qualifications of voters, he or they shall be permitted to vote, and the name or names shall be added to the list of taxables by the election officers, the word "tax" being added where the claimant claims to vote on tax, and the word "age" where he claims to vote on age; the same words being added by the clerks in each case respectively, on the lists of persons voting at such election.

SEC. 5 It shall be lawful for any qualified citizen of the district, notwitstanding the name of the proposed voter is contained on the list of resident taxables, to challenge the vote of such persons; whereupon the same proof of the right of suffrage as is now required by law shall be publicly made and acted on by the election board, and the vote admitted or rejected, according to the evidence; every person claiming to be a naturalized citizen shall be required to produce his naturalization certificate at the election before voting, except where he has been for ten years, consecutively, a voter in the district in which he offers his vote; and on the vote of such person being received, it shall be the duty of the election officers to write or stamp on such certificate the word "voted," with the month and year; and if any election officer or officers shall receive a second vote on the same day, by virtue of the same certificate, excepting where sons are entitled to vote by virtue of the naturalization of their father, they and the person who shall offer such second vote, upon so offending, shall be guilty of high misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court; but the fine shall not exceed one hundred dollars in each case, nor the imprisonment one year; the like punishment shall be inflicted on conviction of the officers of election who shall neglect, or refuse to make, or cause to be made, the endorsement required, as aforesaid, on said naturalization certificate.

SEC. 6 prescribes the penalty of fine, or imprisonment or both, for any election officer who shall refuse or neglect to require such proof of the right of suffrage as is prescribed by this law, or the laws to which this is a supplement, from any person offering to vote whose name is not on the list of assessed voters, or whose right to vote is challenged by any qualified voter present, and who shall permit such person to vote without requiring such proof.

SEC. 7. Ten days preceding every election for electors of President and Vice President of the United States it shall be the duty of the assessor to attend at the place fixed by law for holding the election in each election district, and then and there hear all applications of persons whose names have been omitted from the list of assessed voters, and who claim the right to vote, or whose rights have originated since the same was made out, and shall add the names of persons thereto as shall show that they are entitled to the right of suffrage in such district, on the personal application of the claimant only, and forthwith assess him with the proper tax. After completing the list, a copy thereof shall be placed on the door of or on the house where the election is to be held at least eight days before the election; and at the election the same course shall be pursued, in all respects, as is required by this act and the acts to which it is a supplement, at the general election in October. The assessor shall make the same returns to the county commissioners of all assessments made by virtue of this section; and the county commissioners shall furnish copies thereof to the election officers in each district, in like manner in all respects as is required at the general election in October.

SEC. 8. The same rules and regulations shall apply at every special election, and at every separate city, borough or ward election, in all respects, as at the general election in October.

SEC. 9 gives to the assessors, inspectors and judges the right to administer oaths to any parties in all cases having the right of assessment or suffrage.

SEC. 10 provides for payment of assessors, forbids them to assess a tax against any one within the ten days preceding any general election, and provides a penalty therefor.

SEC. 11. On the petition of five or more citizens of the county, stating under oath that they verily believe that frauds will be practised at the election about to be held, in any district, it shall be the duty of the court of common pleas of said county, if in session, or if not a judge thereof in vacation, to appoint two judicious, sober and intelligent citizens of the county to act as overseers of said election; said overseers shall be selected from different political parties, where the inspectors belong to different parties, and where both of said inspectors belong to the same political party, both of the overseers shall be taken from the opposite political party; said overseers shall have the right to be present with the officers of the election, during the whole time the same is held, the votes counted, and the returns made out and signed by the election officers; to keep a list of voters, if they see proper to challenge any person offering to vote, and interrogate him and his witnesses, under oath, in regard to his right of suffrage at said election, and to examine his papers produced; and the officers of said election are required to afford to said overseers so selected and appointed every convenience and facility for the discharge of their duties; and if said election officers shall refuse to permit said overseers to be present and perform their duties as aforesaid, or if they shall be driven away from the polls by violence or intimidation, all the votes polled at such election district may be rejected by any tribunal trying a contest under said election: Provided, That no person signing the petiiton shall be appointed an overseer.

SEC. 12. If any prothonotary, clerk, or the deputy of either, or any other person, shall affix the seal of office to any naturalization paper, or permit the same to be affixed, or give out, or cause or permit the same to be given out, in blank, whereby it may be fraudulently used, or furnish a naturalization certificate to any person who shall not have been duly examined and sworn in open court, in the presence of some of the judges thereof, according to the act of Congress, or shall aid in, connive at, or in any way permit the issue of any fraudulent naturalization certificate, he shall be guilty of a high misdemeanor; or if any one shall fraudulently use any such certificate of naturalization, knowing that it was fraudulently issued, or shall vote, or attempt to vote thereon, or if any one shall vote, or attempt to vote, on any certificate of naturalization not issued to him, he shall be guilty of a high misdemeanor; and either or any of the persons, their aiders or abettors, guilty of either of the misdemeanors aforesaid, shall, on conviction, be fined in a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars, and imprisoned in the proper penitentiary for a period not exceeding three years.

SEC. 13 Any person who on oath or affirmation, in or before any court in this State, or officer authorized to administer oaths shall, to procure a certificate of naturalization, for himself or any other person, wilfully depose, declare or affirm any matter of fact, knowing the same to be false, or shall in like manner deny any matter of fact, knowing the same to be true, shall be deemed guilty of perjury; and any certificate of naturalization issued in pursuance of any such deposition, declaration or affirmation, shall be null and void; and it shall be the duty of the court issuing the same, upon proof being made before it that it was fraudulently obtained, to take immediate measures for recalling the same for cancellation; and any person who shall vote, or attempt to vote, on any paper so obtained, or who shall in any way aid in, connive at, or have any agency whatever in the issue, circulation or use of any fraudulent naturalization certificate, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall undergo an imprisonment in the penitentiary for not more than two years, and pay a fine, not more than one thousand dollars, for every such offence, or either or both, at the discretion of the court.

SEC. 14. Any assessor, election officer or person appointed as overseer, who shall neglect or refuse to perform any duty enjoined by this act, without reasonable or legal cause, shall be subject to a penalty of one hundred dollars; and if any assessor shall assess any person as a voter who is not qualified, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor in office, and on conviction be punished by fine or imprisonment, and also be subject to an action for damages by the party aggrieved; and if any person shall fraudulently alter, add to, deface or destroy any list of voters, made out as directed by this act, or tear down or remove the same from the place where it has been fixed, with fraudulent or mischievous intent or for any improper purpose, the person so offending shall be guilty of a high misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding two years, or both, at the discretion of the conrt.

SEC. 15. All elections for city, ward, borough, township and election officers shall hereafter be held on the second Tuesday of October, subject to all the provisions of the laws regulating the election of such officers not inconsistent with this act; the persons elected to such offices at that time shall take their places at the expiration of the terms of such election; but no election for the office of assessor or assistant assessor shall be held under this act until the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy.

SEC. 16. At all elections hereafter held under the laws of this Commonwealth, the polls shall be opened between the hours of six and seven o'clock A. M., and closed at seven o'clock P. M.

SEC. 17. It shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to prepare forms for all the blanks made necessary by this act, and furnish copies of the same to the county commissioners of the several counties of the Commonwealth; and the county commissioners of each county shall, as soon as may be necessary after receipt of the same, at the proper expense of the county, procure and furnish to all the election officers of the election districts of their respective counties copies of such blanks, in such quantites as may be rendered necessary for the discharge of their duties under this act.

SEC. 18. None of the foregoing provisions of this act shall apply to the city of Philadelphia, excepting sections twelve and thirteen.

Sec. 19. The citizens of this State temporarily in the service of the State or of the United States governments, on clerical or other duty, and who do not vote where thus employed, shall not be thereby deprived of the right to vote in their several election districts if otherwise duly qualified.

SEC. 20. The act, entitled "A further supplement to the acts relating to the elections of this Commonwealth." approved April fourth, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty eight, and all other laws altered or supplied by this act, be and the same are hereby repealed.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases. Syphilis in all its forms, Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Orchitis, and all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instanees, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, May 1, 1869.

REVIEW FOR THE WEEK.

The oil market has again been dull during the week, the volume of business having been light, while compared with the preceding week. prices are lower and the general feeling is a little bearish. With an access of some 3,000.000 gallons in exports from January to date, compared with the corresponding time last year, an expected increased production and stocks accummulating, cause a general belief that prices will rule lower, though but few, if any, expect to see oil down to where it was at this time last year. The great majority of our refiners remain idle, and are likely to continue so until such time as the market gets into a position that will justify or offer some inducement to our manufacturers to start them up again. At present prices there is no margin whatever, and nearly all of the sales that have been made for several weeks, have been settlements; as our refiners generally will not sell with the fact staring them in the face, that there is no margin whatever.

CRUDE—The market is dull and a little weak, and compared with the early part of the week, prices are about a half a cent lower. Spot, or seller to July may be fairly quoted at 14½, though as yet there appears to be no sellers at that figure.

REFINED—Sale of 500 bbls spot at 32, a little above market; and 500 last half May, at 32. RIVER NEWS.

The river was about at a stand yesterday afternoon, with eight feet and a half in the channel; we should not be surprised to see more water, as the rain is not yet over. Weather cloudy and cold, mercury at noon being down to 40.

The Argosy from St. Louis is the only transient arrival we have to report. She has been absent for several months, but looks none the worse for that.

The Glasgow departed for the Upper Mississippi on Saturday with 400 tuns, and sufficient engaged below to fill out. Pilots—Marsh Hays and Jom Javens.

The Kate Putnam left for St. Louis early on Sunday morning, with a fair trip. Pilots—James Henderson and Schuell Fawcett.

There was considerable stir among the towboats yesterday, getting tows ready, and some of them doubtless departed towards evening.

The Robt. Burns is laid up at Cincinnati.

The R. C. Gray left Cincinnati for Louisville on Friday night with 175 tuns, where she will reload for Pittsburgh.

The Messenger left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Friday with about 300 tuns. Pilots—Capt. Jesse Dean and Capt. Samuel Dean.

The Glendale arrived at St. Louis on Friday, and the Australia passed Memphis the same day for New Orleans.

The Importer, Ida Rees, Ackley, Peninah and Nile left Sioux City for Fort Benton, on the 25th, and the Mountain Ore and Silver Bow, were to start on the 27th. Immense quantities of goods are going to the mines this season.

A St. Louis telegram under date of Friday says: The Supreme Court having refused to grant Capt. Donaldson's petition for a writ of habeus corpus, it is very likely he will soon be brought to trial, and if the boy Ray, one of the principal witnesses against him, testifies to the same effect he did last summer, his conviction is almost certain.

The Camelia, from Nashville, was advertised to leave Cincinnati on Saturday for Pittsburgh.

The Wild Duck and barges, St. Louis to Pittsburgh, passed by Cincinnati.

Passengers and shippers will bear in mind that the St. Marys, Capt. T. C. Sweeny, is the regular packet for Cincinnati to-morrow, leaving at noon.

—Our dispatches announced the arrival at Minneapolis, Minn., on Sunday morning, of the new steamer Minneapolis, and the town was stirred to its innermost sense of excitement by the event. St. Paul don't like the idea of a boat being able to navigate to a point higher up the river than its own wharf, but Minneapolis is pleased, and as an evidence of it, presented the steamer with a full stand of colors.

—Mr. John Greenough, formerly clerk and Captain on Missouri and Mississippi steamers, is now river editor of the St. Louis Republican.

—Mr. I. N. Richards, formerly of the W. F. Curtis, is acting as receiving and discharging clerk of the Cincinnati packet St. Marys.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Gazette of Friday.

The Belle Vernon, from Pittsburgh, received a few passengers here yesterday, and passed down with 625 tuns of of freight, nearly all of which goes to points on the Upper Mississippi. She was drawing seven feet when she left. We hereby give notice to the excited citizens of St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minnesota, that the Belle Vernon will extend her trip to the latter place, and there reload for return trip. They may look for her about Sunday week. She will be found to be the largest sternwheel boat that has ever visited those cities.

—The Robert Burns, in landing at Louisville on Thursday, forced the stern of the Mary Davage out into the stream, throwing her staging and three of her crew into the river. The men reached the shore safely.

—The creditors of the Atlantic and Mississippi Steamship Company had a meeting in St. Louis on Thurday, at which it was decided to wind up the company and sell its remaining steamers. This company started about five years ago, with a capital of $2,000,000, and twenty-three of the finest steamers on the Western rivers, all of which have been destroyed either by fire, explosion or sinking, except five. The boats to be sold are the Lady Gay, Pauline Carroll, W. R. Arthur, Continental and Olive Branch, also a very large and valuable warfboat. The sale will be at auction, after 20 days' notice, and for cash.

—Captain Reader of New Orleans, arrived at Louisville by the Richmond, for the purpose of contracting for a new boat for the Red River trade.

—Colonel J. McMillin, of Memphis, and Captain Murry, of Paducah, are negotiating for the Evansville dry docks, which they propose to put into first rate condition.

—Red River steamboatmen must anticipate a big business next season, no less than three new boats for that river having been contracted at Louisville the past week.

—The Bart Able made her last trip from New Orleans to Shreveport and back in the unprecedented time of five days. This included sixty-eightlandings. The Times says: "This is the fastest time we have ever been called upon to record of Red River."

—The St. Marys left Cincinnati for this port on Friday, and the Messenger was also advertised to follow the same day.

IN THE event of hostilities between France and Prussia, European journals anticipate another popular movement against Rome, for which GARIBALDI and MAZZINI are supposed to be already plotting.

THE Pacific Railway connection is not yet made. The Central rails were laid to the point of junction on Friday, but the Union is delayed by heavy rock work, which may require all of the present week to overcome.

THE Brazilian Mission has been given to Hon. H. T. BLOW, of Missouri. The intention, of the President, to renew his offer of diplomatic appointment to Mr. J. S. CARLISLE, is again rumored, but, as we trust, without sufficient foundation.

THE APPOINTMENT of our philanthropic fellow citizen, F. R. BRUNOT, Esq., as one of the unpaid Indian Commissioners, is one heartily endorsed by this community. Mr. BRUNOT is a gentleman of ample means and leisure, a zealous Christian, and we are sure will fill the requirements of the position with honor.

RICH DEPOSITS of bituminous coal, nearly equal to that found in the mines of this neighborhood, have been discovered at several points on the line of the Union Pacific Railway, and in the heart of the Rocky Mountains. There is no telling how rich in mineral resources that hitherto unknown and unexplored region of our Continent will prove, when its development properly commences.

THE Butler murder trial which has occupied much of our space during the past ten days, was brought to a close on Saturday, the jury finding the prisoner, ZACHARY TAYLOR HOCKENBERRY, to be guilty of the highest grade of homicide. It is not improbable that a new trial will be granted the prisoner, and that he may escape a second conviction.

THE Pittsburgh Post says, of the existing bridge obstructions to the navigation of the Ohio, that they are built of perishable materials, which the Company proposes ultimately to replace with an iron structure. The Post adds:

"If so, it would be no more than even-handed justice, and no retrospective exercise of the court's power, to order them to conform to what has been for years the law of the land. The casualties of the last week on the Ohio demand it."

THE majority of our Supreme Judges have been politically known as Republicans, not Democrats, as inadvertently stated on Saturday. We hasten to correct our own error on that point. In the same connection, it is proper to remark that the act of one Nisi Prius Judge, in overturning the rulings of another made at the preceding term, has no other public importance than as encouraging the hope that the conflict of opinion may ensure an ultimate decision by the full bench upon the contested questions.

THE official Treasury statement shows a decrease of the public debt, during April, of nearly six and half millions. Of the $24,000,000 due for interest May 1st, upwards of $3,000,000 has been paid in advance, the Treasury securing a proportional rebate. Had a greater stringency been felt in financial circles, during the month, a much larger demand, in this way, would have been made upon the idle cash in the Secretary's hands. The use already made of this resource, by the public creditors, is a significant indication of the extent to which these funds may be utilized, in an emergency, and abundantly sustains the Treasury policy.

THE action of Assessor WEBSTER, of New York—in holding bankers liable, as such, to the tax of one-twenty-fourth of one per cent. per month upon so much of the money employed by them in the business of banking as is borrowed from day to day, or for a longer period—has been sustained by Commissioner DELANO. All banking capital is held to be subject to tax, whether permanent or borrowed for any length of time whatever. This ruling has been stoutly opposed by the private banking firms of the country. Its effects will be largely beneficial to the public revenues, and, moreover, are likely to check certain practices of Wall street, which have not been favorable to the financial interests of business circles generally.

MR. HORACE GREFELY prints a card, in his New York Tribune, correcting the erroneous report that a change had been made in the management of that journal. Mr. YOUNG remains at his post. Mr. GREELEY finds nothing in the recent publications, which may justly impair the confidence of his associates in the gentleman who has been assailed, but insists that the charge involving treachery to the Associated Press ought to be fully investigated, suspending, for that purpose, his own judgment thereon. It is stated that libel-suits are to be instituted against all journals which copied the original scandal from the New York Sun. But few Western journals reprinted the full text of the publication; but the synopsis, which was prepared and telegraphed by the Associated Press agent in New York, has appeared in probably every newspaper in the country which regularly receives news through that channel. In this connection, a Philadelphia journal charges that the New York agent of the Association is a personal enemy of Mr. YOUNG, and that he has availed himself of his official position to gratify his inimical feeling. This charge has enough of plausibility to entitle it to a hearing in the proper quarters, and we commend it to the attention of the Executive Committee of the Western Press.

THE MARY LOWELL.

England makes a peremptory demand upon the Cuban authorities for the release of the Mary Lowell, an American vessel seized by those authorities in British waters, and in violation of the British sovereignty, which was at the moment responsible for her protection. This demand also includes such other reparation as justice requires. The vessel has been already condemned by the Spanish Admiralty as a lawful prize—that verdict standing upon the fact that her cargo consisted of war material, understood to be for the insurgent use—so that the position cannot fail to embarrass the Cuban government. But the violation of her sovereignty, of which England complains, was flagrant, and could not be submitted to, even without that American demand, for the enforcement of the English maratime-law, which rests at the foundation of this case. It is satisfactory to perceive the promptitude and vigor with which the affair is taken up at London, and which will be fully sustained in the West Indian waters, in securing, in any event, the redress thus insisted on.

THE ALABAMA IN ENGLAND.

The English press comment upon the rejection of the Alabama treaty, and upon the accompanying speech of Mr. SUMNER, with a freedom of criticism which was naturally to be expected. They are quite willing to await Mr. MOTLEY's arrival, and to listen to his propositions courteously, but all the journals are agreed that the American ultimatum, if substantially in accord with our Senator's positions, will not deserve the consideration of an hour.

The cable also supplies us with what purports to be a synopsis of the Ministerial deliberations. It is noticeable that the Premier, GLADSTONE, expressed confidence that American diplomacy would not insist upon the extreme views presented by our Senator, but would meet England upon fair and reasonable terms. Lord CLARENDON held a similar opinion, and avowed his faith in the efficacy of friendly negotiations for the final adjustment of the controversy.

It is apparent that popular feeling in Great Britain inclines to look upon the American claim as aggressive, and to resist it as such, and not because of its intrinsic injustice. John Bull, when confessedly in the wrong, would rather fight than submit to be bullied. He will see that his newspapers ridicule our claims as unreasonable, and humiliating to the English pride, and it will need but a very little time to get the back of the British lion into its most pugnacious curve. It will be quite as well as we need expect, if the national sentiment does not turn out strong enough to control Ministers, and force their Government into an attitude much less friendly toward America than their present judgment indicates. Public opinion is a power in this country, but it is an element of at least equal strength in Great Britain. Upon this question, the crisis of excitement has passed by in popular feeling here, but it is just setting in on the other side of the water.

It is quite probable that Mr. MOTLEY will be instructed not to reopen negotiations for the settlement of the Alabama claims. With an official announcement of the opinions which his own government entertains, our Minister will refrain, it is believed, from further discussions; at all events, he will take the initiative in no formal propositions looking to any definite arrangement. We are in no haste, in this matter. If the British public would have time to become cool, they can have as much as they wish for. In due time, after the popular excitements, on either side, have passed away, the questions at issue will be again taken up, and with better success.

CUBAN AFFAIRS.

Our sympathizers with the Cuban insurgents are encouraged by a transient gleam of light in the direction of Mexico, which recognizes the belligerent rights of the rebels. There is not much in this. It is true that Mexico, although an otherwise insignificant figure in the great family of nations, is still a nation, with all the nominal prerogatives of an independent and established sovereignty. This recognition was equally within her discretion and her authority. But she has no marine. Her flag is never seen in the Gulf, or upon the seas. This recognition leaves her still neutral; she takes by it no part in the existing hostilities, beyond the simple acknowledgment of each of the two flags as equally entitled to their legitimate freedom of the seas. But neither of them may establish prize courts in her ports; neither of them may make her neutrality a cover for any new form of warfare against the other. Unless Mexico goes yet farther, in her old hatred for Spain, and allies herself with the rebels, which would be war for herself also, she cannot suffer her neutral flag to be prostituted for letters of marque, or exhibit her sympathies by any overt act whatever. All that the insurgents have really gained is the sufferance of their own flag, flying over their own shipping in the Mexican harbors. Of course, no obstacles are likely to be put, by her officials, in the way of shipments of warlike material for rebel use, but in that sufferance she will risk the forfeiture of her own neutrality, for, if persisted in after remonstrance, it will be a good casus belli for Spain, whose navy is ample to blockade her ports. The Juarez government has little inclination, and less ability, to support an unnecessary war, and will therefore, we think, abstain from every overt act of hostility, even against the hated Spaniards. Hence, the Cubans, who have not yet one seaport of her own, need expect but little of substantial benefit from this recognition.

Again, come rumors from Washington, that the Administration inclines to follow the Mexican lead, by supporting the rebels with our own more potential recognition. It is even declared that this step is already resolved upon, and is to be speedily taken. It is also announced that a recent order, from the President, for the sale of our surplus war material to any applicants therefor, is issued expressly in the insurgent interest. Neither of these reports is worthy of belief. We have a surplus of war material, at the command of any cash purchaser. Its removal from our coast, in violation of our own obligations to a friendly power, is prohibited by law, and therefore quite another affair. It would equally be prohibited by the same laws, even if we were to recognize the rebels as belligerents. Neutrality would then forbid us to afford, to either party, such material aid.

The Administration has no official knowledge of the existing insurrection. It is thus far considered, in the diplomacy of the two nations, as a riotous resistance to a legitimate authority. It is in this way that Spain chooses to avoid the embarrassments which our own recognition of the Southern rebellion brought upon our Government, eight years since. Whether it would be wiser for the Spanish Government to recognize the Cubans as insurgents, and to put all other powers upon their just neutral responsibilities, is a question which is likely to be determined by the events. Until then, our Administration must ignore the insurrection as politically a fact, or take a long and most decisive step toward the interruption of friendly relations with Spain. Such a step has been, and still is, most improbable. Any existing difficulties in the maintenance of a strictly neutral position, by the American government, between Spain and her colonial subjects, would be immeasurably increased by our recognition of the rebels. The President will not multiply his embarrassments in that way, unless he proposes to go still farther, in a direction which the National sentiment cannot justify.

MEXICAN ANNEXATION.

It is rumored that dispatches, recently received from our Minister in Mexico, cover a proposal from that Government to cede the two provinces of Sonora and Sinaloa to the United States for a fixed money consideration. A special meeting of the Cabinet was held on Friday afternoon, the President summoning the attendance of such Secretaries as were then away from the city. It was then supposed that the subject for Cabinet consideration would be the nature of instructions to be given to Minister Motley, but it is now thought that the Mexican proposition occupied the meeting. In either event, none of the conclusions reached in the council have yet transpired.

These Mexican provinces would constitute, in respect of their vast mineral wealth, a desirable acquisition to the territory of this Republic. But their geographical position is so peculiar as to exclude the idea of the annexation of these provinces alone. Skirting the eastern coast of the Gulf of California with a narrow strip of territory, of a width varying from one hundred and fifty to four hundred miles, east and west, and more than fifteen hundred miles in length, north and south, and hemmed in on the eastern border, for that distance, by the Mexican States of Chihuahua and Durango, these States are confronted by the Gulf and, beyond that, by the Mexican peninsula of Lower California. The States of Durango, Chihuahua and Coahuila are interposed between Sonora and Sinoloa, on the West, and Texas on the East. Against the annexation of an area thus situated, there appear the strongest political and military objections. Indeed, such annexation would necessarily involve the speedy absorption of the three other Mexican States which now cut them off from our present Texian border. Nor could Mexico hold the peninsula west of the Gulf for any length of time.

It is probable that if Mexico proposes any cession of her present territory whatever, it includes the States of Sonora and Chihuahua alone, or perhaps the peninsula also. Such a re-arrangement of boundaries would conveniently round out the northern possessions of the neighboring Republic, and would give to us the control of nearly all of that vast area stretching due west from Texas to the Pacific Ocean.

Annexation in that direction, and with a just regard to the geographical relations of the two nations, is much better worth our while, than anything to be found in the Caribbean Sea. In the first case, we should render our imperial territory solid, compact, defensible, and sweeping the continent clear from the Gulf of Mexico to the Western Ocean. The construction of the Southern line of trans-continental railway would at once follow, and the mineral resources of the new territories—which are very inadequately known, but of which we know enough to warrant the belief that they are practically inexhaustible, when thoroughly developed by the energy and skill of our countrymen—would, in a very few years, repay all the outlays of the nation and of individuals.

Mexico is to-day, as she has been since the expulsion of the French invaders, enjoying an unusual exemption from domestic commotions. President JUAREZ holds the Government with a firm and steady hand, and, on the whole, as it seems, over a people more contented and obedient to authority than Mexico has known since Santa Anna's palmiest days. But his treasury is empty, and he looks in vain, for resources, to a people whose agriculture is limited to the simple procurement of their own subsistence, —an easy matter in that climate—who have no manufactures adequate even for similar domestic necessities, and whose mining interests, once fruitful of the precious metals for the commerce of the world, have dwindled into an absolute insignificance. Burthened with vast public debts and altogether without means to discharge them, the government supplies its current necessities by forced contributions and arbitrary impositions of every sort upon the people. It is not, then, surprising that the old project of a territorial sale to this powerful and wealthy Republic of the North should be again revived, but it will be a novel experience for Mexico if this project be now consummated, with the consent of a people which has ever jealously resisted all similar propositions. If Juarez seriously contemplates it, and shall succeed in carrying it through, he will not only find us willing customers, but he will exhibit to the world a most convincing proof that his power has a substantial hold upon the loyalty of his own countrymen.

Washington Items.

It is understood Mr. Grinnell has notified Secretary Boutwell of his intention to vacate the New York Collectorship, as he finds his duties too hard.

The Mexican proposition comes in the form of a protocol for a treaty. It has been negotiated principally by Senor Romero, the Secretary of the Treasury of Mexico, and former Mexican Minister to Washington. It is understood that the Administration decided nothing Saturday.

A movement is on foot to have the Ways and Means Committee to go to Canada this summer and negotiate a new reciprocity treaty for the exchange of agricultural products, bituminous coal being termed an agricultural production. The Committee will have to draw ten thousand dollars to pay their traveling expenses, &c.

The statement that the President will suspend Hon. James M. Ashley from the Governorship of Montana Territory, is simply ridiculous. He can, of course, remove him by appointing another person, subject to the approval of the Senate, but he does not intend to do anything of the kind.

The Navy Department is already making preparations for the taking of the observation of the eclipse of the sun in August, and has directed the Commander of the Asiatic Squadron to meet Prof. Coffin, superintendent of the nautical almanac, and two companions, at Yokohoma, Japan, by the first of July, from which point they will sail for Siberia. Prof. Coffin has decided to select either Okhaltsk or Pensjinsk, in Siberia, and Norton Sound, Alaska, as the most favorable positions for observing the eclipse. The naval appropriation bill, which passed at the last Congress, appropriates $5,000 for the purpose alluded to.

AT SHAWANO, Wisconsin, on the 12th inst., the work of breaking the "big landing" was commenced. The Journal says this landing is probably the largest in the world. The bank from top to water's edge is about one hundred feet. It is about a hundred rods long and contains over eight million feet of logs. Great pains were taken in putting the logs in, so that, were they no heavier than a man could easily handle, they could not be packed any closer. It is one vast closely packed log heap, seventy-five feet high, ten rods wide and one hundred rods long.

The Alabama Claims—Comments of the English Press on Mr. Sumner's Speech.

The London papers open their editorial pages with comments on the speech lately delivered by Mr. Sumner on the subject of the Alabama claims, and the relations generally existing between Great Britain and America. The writers suppress the text of the speech, however.

The Star, John Bright's organ, says: The claims of Sumner are so new and startling, so vaguely put that they must be regarded simply as enormous, and withal so unexpected that if they convey merely the shadow of his instructions to Minister Motley, he will come to the English metropolis in a very different official guise from that under which Minister Johnson arrived.

The Star deplores the rejection by England of the early evertures made by ex-Minister Adams for the settlement of this question. President Grant, is not, it is said, a whole-soul lover of peace, as was Lincoln. He has intense determination of character, but is a western man without that natural genius which characterized Lincoln, who instead of reading had actual experience of the world. President Grant has no training either as a lawyer or politician. He is intensely American, and the entire world is acquainted with his resolution of purpose.

After defending England from the charge of general sympathy with the Confederation, the writer confesses that the escape of the Alabama from England was both deplorable and disgraceful, forming the worst precedent Great Britain could establish for the future in such like contingencies.

The Star expresses, however, its amazement at the character of Mr. Sumner's demand for reparation. If Mr. Motley's instructions are couched in a similar spirit, his mission will be fruitless, as the extravagance in the propositions will strike the public at once. Every one knows how anxious the British people are to deal fairly on the subject, but justly considers that if her concessions are to be merely used as stand points for further, and at present, unreasonable demands, England must carefully consider the position, lest by yielding unadvisedly, she should establish a worse precedent than that of burning ships on the high seas, by admitting a discussion of the demands as utterly untenable, and which ought to be resisted.

The Times designates the estimates of the American damages put forth by Mr. Sumner as portentious, as it has already reached £422,000,000, and may in the future embrace the possible earnings of all the soldiers drawn from the fields of productive labor by the war. The speech, it adds, is worthy of Mr. Sumner, and deserves an impartial consideration. He wants, however, something more than national reparation from England, asking for contrition and public humiliation. Treaties of peace, however, dictated by conquerors at the head of armies, are found to be unencumbered by such expressions. An acknowledgment of moral liability for these claims, made beforehand, would prejudge the controversy and stultify the proposed settlement. In the event of an arbitration, the court declaring England not liable to pay damages, would her apology be taken back? The views taken by Mr. Sumner's arguments on these points is puerile, unreasonable and unstatesmanlike.

The Times argues that the concession of belligerent rights to the South was a simple act, and in fact not dependent on the Union blockade, for had there not been a blockade it would not have altered the case to any appreciable degree. Mr. Sumner makes, it is said, no complaint against France, although Napoleon was desirous of recognizing the independence of the Southern Confederation. It is alleged that though England is held forth as the only foreign power implacably hostile to America, it is not too much to say, that at one moment during the war the fate of the American Union depended on the voice of England, whose sword thrown into the scale would have altered the result. She declined the contest, and it evinces a degree of unfairness, bordering on infatuation, to leave this consideration out of account. It is the common practice with American journalists and politicians to villify England, and the protective tariff plan is popular with them, merely as likely to inflict an injury on Great Britain. Let atonement be made for the insulting language by individuals, and it will be seen whether England and America, by a retrospective verdict of public opinion, will continue the cultivation of that mutual respect which is as necessary as in the private relations of life. Nations, as such, only deal in overt acts, and these constitute merely possible subjects for pecuniary compensation.

The Standard, Tory organ, says: The English people now know what Mr. Motley will have to aim at in his efforts to arrrange the Alabama claims on a basis now wasted away. In some respects good will ensue from the candor which the American Senate displays. Formerly the danger was that England would step beyond a due regard for national honor and dignity and allow the claims; but now, when the demand has assumed its present proportions, they will feel assured that, even with John Bright in the Cabinet, they are safe from the chance of disgraceful capitulation. The American claim can hardly be described in serious language, and its terms do not excite indignation. They might as well argue against a proposal for American troops to hold the Tower of London as a material guarantee, or that the Prince of Wales should be sent to Washington and placed in the hands of the Federal authorities as a hostage for England's good behavior in the future. The policy of England on this subject is no longer an open question. America has formally recorded her resolution that there shall be no settlement of the Alabama claims; in short that England shall surrender at discretion and submit to any punishment which the United States Senate in its supremacy over the affairs of the world may choose to inflict. In other words, she has decided that the Alabama claims shall not be amicably settled whatever may ensue. The interval at the present day is long between national hatred and bombardment. It is useless to ignore and dangerous to forget that the feeling in America is one of intense and unmitigated hatred toward Great Britain, and that war with England would be regarded as a national luxury, but expensive England has not only admitted that such a war would be expensive but deplorable. Under the circumstances, it is probable the Americans will elect to keep the Alabama claims in reserve, and await their opportunity for revenge more cheaply. War is not an agreeable solution, though involving danger rather than dishonor, and it may be better to accept any settlement which the present administration in London may have made, if the attitude of the American Senate was less ridiculous.

Mr. Sumner's speech created an intense excitement in political circles. At the Cabinet meeting yesterday the subject of the speech was informally discussed. Mr. Bright declared the embarrassment which the publication produced served England very properly, but agreed not to consent to entertain the terms of settlement foreshadowed by Mr. Sumner.

Mr. Clarendon expressed belief that the actual negotiations going on between the two countries on the subject were of a far less extreme character than the speech of American Senators, or the articles in the public press. He hoped to find Mr. Motley as courteous as Mr. Johnson, and the present administration was eager for a lasting continuance of friendly relations with the United States.

Mr. Gladstone professes to have good assurance from reliable quarters that the recent rejection of the treaty on this subject by the American Legislature was purely a political movement. The present Administration will endeavor to settle the Alabama question on liberal and honorable terms.

Outside, the tone of the English people is anti-American, and more so since having read only the partial publication of Mr. Sumner's argument.

The Tools of Great Workmen.

It is not tools that make the workman, but the trained skill and preseverance of the man himself. Indeed, it is proverbial that bad workmen never yet had good tools. A student once asked a great artist by what wonderful process he mixed his colors. "I mix them with my brains, sir," was his reply. It is the same with every workman who would excel. Ferguson made a wonderful thing—his wooden clock, that accurately measured the hours—by a common pen-knife, a tool in everybody's hand, but then everybody is not a Ferguson. A pan of water and two thermometers were the tools by which Dr. Black discovered latent heat. A prism, a lens and a sheet of pasteboard enabled Newton to unfold the composition of light, and the origin of color. An eminent foreign savant once called upon Dr. Wollaston and requested to be shown over the laboratories in which science had been enriched by so many important discoveries. The Doctor took him into a little studio, and pointing to an old tea tray on the table, containing a few watch-glasses, test-papers, a small balance and a blow-pipe, said: "This is all the laboratory I have." Stothard learned the art of combining colors by closely studying butterflies' wings. He would often say that no one knew how much he owed these tiny insects. A burnt stick and a barn door served Wilkie in lieu of pencil and canvass. Bewick first practised drawing on the cottage walls of his native village, which he covered with his sketches in chalk; and Banjamin West made his first brushes out of a cat's tail. Ferguson laid himself down in the fields at night in a blanket and made a map of the heavenly bodies, by means of a thread with small beads on it, stretched between his eyes and the stars. Franklin first robbed the thunder-cloud of its lightning by means of a kite made with two cross-sticks and a silk handkerchief. Watt made his first model of the condensing steam engine out of an old anatomist's syringe, used to inject the arteries previous to dissection. Gifford worked his first problem in mathematics, when he was a cobbler's apprentice, upon small scraps of leather, which he beat smooth for the purpose; while Rittenhouse, the astronomer, first calculated the eclipse on his plow handles.—American Artisan.

THE REASON WHY

Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher is the best. It is computed that a man's system undergoes three times a year, that is every four months, a radical and thorough change, that is, that at the end of that time nothing remains in the system of the material of which it was composed before that time. The eliminating organs carry out the worn-out and used-up material, and new matter is made to take its place and carry on the workings of the human organism. The cost of four months treatment in this way would not at the outside be more than ten dollars, and frequently the functions of life have an activity and vigor imparted sufficient to renew them by the use of one bottle, costing only one dollar. No organ of the body but will be benefitted by such a process. The liver, the stomach, the kidneys, the skin, the lungs, are all, as it were, made over again by the impetus given to the stomach and digestive system—old and prostrated people whose systems had begun to languish and decay, have been restored by DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER to youthful health and vigor. Especially is this medicine suitable at this season of the year, when the dormant powers of life, like all the rest of nature are emerging from the chilling and torpid state usual to the cold and wintry months. We know very well that all advertised medicines are apt to be regarded as useless and nugatory, but with DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER we feel perfectly secure in the promise that it must do good. Country merchants and those who supply others with needful things for their wants cannot confer a greater service than to keep a few bottles of this valuable medicine on their shelves to supply their wants. Dr. Keyser will take back every half dozen that remains unsold. It at the same time affords the merchant a good profit, and to those who need it, it is of more value than silver and gold, for what can be of more value to man than a medicine which carries health and life to the suffering invalid?

We earnestly entreat all who read this to try one bottle of Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher if they need such a medicine, and we will guarantee satisfaction. In order, however, not to be disappointed, let them buy none but that which has Dr. Keyser's name over the cork and blown in the bottle, and in that way the Doctor will hold himself responsible for its results when the directions are closely followed.

SOLD AT THE DOCTOR'S GREAT NEW MEDICINE STORE, NO. 160 LIBERTY ST.

DR. KEYSER'S CONSULTATION ROOMS, NO. 120 PENN STREET, FROM 10 A. M. UNTIL 4 P. M.

COMMON SENSE

Rules the mass of the people, whatever the misnamed and misanthropic philosophers may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing, let its merits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it their most cordial patronage. The masses have already ratified the judgment of a physician concerning the virtues of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, as may be seen in the immense quantities of this medicine that are annually sold in every section of the land. It is now recognized as greatly superior to all other remedies yet devised for diseases of the digestive organs, such as diarrhœa, dysentery, dyspepsia, and for the various fevers that arise from the derangement of those portions of the system. Hostetter's name is rapidly becoming a household word, from Maine to Texas, from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific. These celebrated STOMACH BITTERS have doubtless created as much sensation in the community for their remarkable cures as any other medicine extant. It is a fact that in the minds of many persons a prejudice exists against what are called patent medicines; but why should this prevent your resorting to an article that has such an array of testimony to support it as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Physicians prescribe it; why should you discard it? Judges, usually considered men of talent, do use it their families; why should you reject it? Let not your prejudice usurp your reason, to the everlasting injury of your health. It is the only preparation of the kind that is reliable in all cases, and it is therefore worthy of the consideration of the afflicted. The BITTERS are pleasant to the taste, agreeable in their effects, and altogether valuable as a tonic or remedy for indigestion.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, May 1, 1869.

The entire money market is in an abnormal condition. The steady advance in Government bonds might be explained by the general improvement of the government finances and the large demand for bonds from Europe to reinvest the interest just due on bonds, but why gold should also advance, despite the large disbursements and sales of gold by the government, can only be explained by the unusual demand for exchange, for which there is at present nothing to cover but the gold shipments. Besides the heavy interest debt in Europe we have a large adverse trade balance to settle, which requires all the cotton and other surplus produce to ship, but of grain or flour the ruling prices are still higher here than in Europe, unless gold should considerably advance to compensate for the sale of exchange.

The speculative feeling for American government bonds at the money centres is at present exhausted, but the investment demand by small capitalists continues unabated, and from this source quotations are sustained, besides the amount of bonds on the market is so small, that the volume is insufficient to answer the daily large dealings in them. For this reason higher prices might be predicted, if they were not already too high for investment, and no other opportunities offered to place capital at remunerative rates, without risk. For the gold premium, the tendency is decidedly a rising one, and it would not be surprising to see gold range much higher than it did since 1865.

The stock market is still very strong, although the average quotations were lower on Saturday on account of the inclemency of the werther. The heavy break in Erie, down to 27, carried down Ohio and Mississippi, and the Erie dependencies. Fort Wayne is strong and there is no doubt but that the present clique mean to declare a heavy scrip dividend in order to save themselves. The large short interest now existing in this stock is favorable to such a measure and would fully compensate the present originators of the rise, even if the stock should afterwards decline heavily. It is likely that this stock will range at the same rate as the New York Central Railroad stock outside of Wall street. Money is still as difficult to obtain as ever, and the best commercial paper is almost unsaleable, except at a high rate of interest. The present Currency and its constant fluctnations in its value is a curse on the mercantile interests, and places the whole community in the hands of a few magnates of the stock exchange.

Business shows more activity, but is unprofitable.

NEW YORK, May 1, 1869.

Money was easy during the morning at 6@7 per cent., but later the demand improved, and 7 per cent. plump was the rate at the close of banking hours. A few persons paid 7 per cent. gold, but there was evidently some object in doing this, as no first class firm paid over 7 per cent. currency. The bank statement is favorable; loans $260,435,170, increase $2,799,086; specie $9,267,460, increase $417,275; circulation $33,972,060, decrease $88,533; deposits $183,948,566, increase $6,608,848; legal tenders $56,454,722, increase $2,817,824. Sterling quiet and firm at 9@9¼ per cent. Gold firmer, in consequence of the unfavorable reception by the English press of Senator Sumner's speech, and inference that serious serious complications may arise. The heavy imports of the week also stiffened, the market price opening at 34⅞, advanced to 35, and closed at 34¾@34⅞. The rates paid for carrying were 6, 5, 4, 3, 2 and 1 per cent. to flat. Clearances, $7,500,000. Exports for the week, $569,289, including those of to-day to Europe and Cuba.

Governments opened heavy and lower under the fall of bonds in London and fears of another advance in the rate of interest, but the decline was recovered, and the market closed strong and higher with an increased demand at the close upon a million of bonds that went to Europe to-day. The old bonds are quoted ex-coupons. We quote Coupons Sixes of '81, 118⅜@118¾; do. '62, 118¼@118½; do. '64, 113¾@113⅞; do. '65, 115¼@115½; do. new, 116⅛@116⅜; do. 67, 116⅜@116¾; do. State bonds: Missouris, 88¼@89; old Tennessees, 68¼@68¾; new do 67¼@67½; old North Carolinas, 61¼@61½; new do 54¾@55; old Virginias, 54¾; Louisiana Levee Sixes, 70¼@70¾. One hundred thousand of the latter sold at 70. The interest on these bonds was paid to-day. The Stock market was less active than yesterday, and though somewhat irregular during the day, became buoyant during the afternoon, with a general advance in prices, especially in Erie. New York Central, Michigan Southern and Northwestern closed steady. Pacific Mail was weak, while Erie in the forenoon sold at 25¾. The Stock Exchange has adopted the proposal to amalgamate with the Government Board. The Open Board to-day appointed a committee to again confer with the Stock Exchange on the consolidation question. The street was filled with rumors of injunctions and a reduction of the price of membership of the two Boards.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, May 1, 1869.

Business generally is picking up by degrees, though there is still plenty of room for improvement; and it is not what it should be at this season of the year. With every appearance of good crops, and an easing up in money matters, it is but reasonable to presume that trade will soon be better, although, as we have repeatedly stated, people must confine themselves to doing business in a legitimate way, stop speculating so much, and be satisfied with smaller margins. This thing of making a fortune in a few months, or even years, is among the things of the past.

TALLOW.—Is dull and drooping and rendered cannot be quoted above 10½@10⅝.

—The Worrell sisters have quarreled and separated.

—Bishop Colenso has written a new book on the Pentateuch.

—The owner of Marshall Brown's pups returns an income of $21,000,

—A ghost, which perambulates Chicago, has lost its' head—and no wonder.

—They say it was A. Oakey Hall who called quack doctors, pillers of the constitution.

—An exchange suggests that the teeth of ladies decay early, on account of the sweetness of their mouths.

—Leah is what Mrs. Bowers was playing in Boston last week. Mrs. B. ought not to leer at the Bostonians.

—White double-breasted waistcoats have reappeared in New York, and are called harbingers of Spring.

—An advertisement in an Australian paper invites proposals from clergymen "for marrying two or more couples."

—The Boston Post says "the velocipede mania is already on the wane." So it is here—that is if you call a bicycle a wain.

—An exchange thinks the temperance people should take charge of the money question, as money is now so frequently tight.

—A volume of smoke does not necessarily accompany all light reading, but will if you turn the wick of your reading lamp too high up.

—Washington is to have a fine large hotel for colored people. We suppose only white waiters and chambermaids will be employed.

—The names of the bride's-maids, groom's-men and gentlemen ushers are now put on the same card with those of the bride and groom.

—Massachusetts lager beer is not intoxicating. The Senate has decreed it, and those persons who indulge in the use of that beverage thankfully acquiesce.

—One of the many troops of original Christy minstrels is now performing in South Africa, whence it will probably derive many new and original negroisms and melodies.

—Hepworth Dixon, at the Dicken's banquet said that "a banquet is a very noble pastime," and the Sorosis of New York seem to agree with him as they pass a great deal of their time in that way.

—A New York physician reports a curious case of a dog, which had just died, having fresh blood passed into the carotid. The dead animal revived, stood on his feet, wagged his tail and lived over twelve hours, when he died again.

—George Francis Train may get himself into trouble again. He recently called Adam (Eve's husband) a sneak. As several of that gentleman's descendants are still living and may object to this kind of aspersion of one of their most renowned ancestors, George F. may find himself involved in a suit for slander or libel.

—Francis W. Goddard, lately a captain in a Rhode Island regiment, has written a letter to little Senator Sprague, which he closes with these words: "It remains for me to pronounce you before the world, and with a full apprehension of the words I use, a liar, a calumniator, and a poltroon." When so little remained to be said, we think Capt. Goddard might have finished it all up in one job.

—On the 11th of April Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Wales visited Sebastopol and the Alma. It is suggested that Mrs. Wales might have said "Albert, what is the difference between your royal mother and this little stream?" Being naturally polite, Albert might have given it up, and then with that indescribable and bewitching little air of triumph, which only a woman can assume, his beloved spouse would have said "because her Majesty is grandma as well as ma, and this little stream is Alma."

—On Saturday we saw four policemen, not on the Strand, but on a very prominent street, the policemen were hugely enjoying the troubles of a lady in front, who was hurrying ahead to avoid the wheelbarrow which was swiftly pursuing her. At length she desperately stepped into the street, and there waited until the haughty wheelbarrower had passed by, thus robbing the four gentlemen behind of their amusement. Three or four fine looking fellows in neat uniforms, parading arm in arm on the avenues, is a pretty sight, but the beautiful prospect would have been but partially marred if one of the group had forced that haughty wheelbarrow to go either into the street, where it belonged, or to the station house, where it could have been accommodated. We have often spoken of this nuisance before, and shall probably have to do so again, as it is constantly forcing itself upon our notice.

A Texas paper observes: "The price of Indian scalps has advanced since the notorious outlaw Glanton made a contract with the authorities of Chihuahua, Mexico, to furnish them at $10 per head, and attempted to ring in Mexican scalps at the same price. Colonel Buck Barry, of Bosque county, in writing to a gentleman of Corsicana, says that a purse of $1000 has been made up for the scalp of each and every Indian or thief killed in that section.

Old Trees.

The oldest tree known to naturalists is the Great Dragon tree of Orotova, Teneriffe, which was blown down by a hurricane a few months since. It was a stately tree, seventy or eighty feet high, as early as A. D. 1402, and so old and remarkable a tree then as to excite particular notice and care for its preservation. When it was destroyed it was believed to be not less than 5,000 years old. On the banks of the Senegal river, in Africa, there are, or were in 1748, trees growing sixty or eighty feet high, and some thirty feet in diameter, which were estimated by Adanson, the French naturalist, to be over 5,000 years old. They are known as the Baobob, or Adansonia. The English yew is another very long-lived tree. There are numbers of these trees in England and Scotland, which are believed to be from 1,400 to 3,000 years old. A cypress tree in Oaxaca, Mexico, which forty years ago measured 120 feet in height, 118 feet in circumference, and which sheltered Hernan de Cortes and his followers under its wide-spreading boughs about the year 1520, is supposed to be now 4,000 years old! And in California there are mammoth cypresses which stretch their heads up 300 or 400 feet, and are believed to be some 3,000 years old! There are many other trees, in differentp arts of the world—single trees, famous in history, and groups of trees—as locusts and oaks, and limes, elms, and pines, nut trees of different kinds, olive and orange trees, etc., etc., which are either absolutely known, or believed to be, all along from 350, 440, 516, 770, 780, 800, 900, 1,000, and so on, up to 3,000 or more years old. Boston Traveller.

Prayer by Telegraph.

The Concord sage has suggested that the electric wire is about to harmonize all religions. and do away with every ridiculous tradition. It is to be the universal medium by which all creation may compare notes at once, and out of the multitude of opinions bring the correct one. We have also been told that love letter telegraphing is quite popular in England and France; and one case is on record in this country where a whole courtship was carried on in that way. But the most peculiar and astounding phase of telegraphic beneficence is the appeal which a correspondent of the Journal of the Telegraph makes, that we may have "prayer by telegraph." He proceeds at some length to develop his idea, which is that non-church goers might be hit in this way, and smitten to the heart. To popularize prayer is his aim. The newspaper, he thinks, should have an especial prayer column. Why not? Beecher, under that system could pray, as well as preach, not merely to the Plymouth Church congregation, but to the whole English speaking world. Prayers could not conscientiously be sold like sermons; they are, or ought to be, voluntary soul utterances, and would thus be lifted above the range of the vulgar competition of the religious press, and free as the water of life to all.—*Springfield (Mass.) An Incident of the Flood in Illinois.—Mr Rouse and his wife, living on the Rochester Road, near Sugar Creek, came into the city on Sunday last, but owing to the severe rain storm remained in the city until the next morning, leaving at home three children, one of them a young man of about sixteen or eighteen years of age. On Monday morning Mr. Rouse started home, and on arriving in the vicinity of his residence found that his dwelling was surrounded with water, the creek having risen rapidly during the night. He succeeded in reaching his house by swimming his horse a portion of the distance across the bottom land. On arriving at the house he found his children all safe, but very much frightened, being unable to escape from their unpleasant situation. Feeling it unsafe to remain in the house, Mr. Rouse tore up the chamber floor of his dwelling, constructed a raft from the boards, and on this his family took passage, and fortunately landed safely on dry land.—*Springfield (Ill.) The Death Penalty appears to have been practically abolished in Sweden. The criminal code of that country, adopted in 1864, reduced the offences punished by death from 68 to a very few crimes, such as murder and robbery with violence. Besides, the Judges can substitute penal servitude for hanging. Since 1863, only seven persons have been executed, 61 have been condemned to capital punishment, and 235 to penal servitude for life. No executions have taken place during the last two years, though a number of persons are lying in prison under sentence of death. The object in not issuing death warrants for these convicts appears to be a desire to ascertain whether public security will be promoted by an abolition of the death penalty before formally passing a law to that effect.

Emigration from England to the United States, it is reported, will hereafter be systematically organized. Leading members of the English trade unions, aided by liberal capitalists and politicians, it is stated, have turned their attention to emigration as a means of relief for the operatives. The spinners and miners now on a strike will be aided to emigrate, and a committee of three or five of the leading working men are about coming to the United States to obtain information, and on their return to England will establish a Bureau of Emigration in London.

The Allegheny Lock-up yesterday morning contained four inmates.

The Churches were generally honored with a slim attendance yesterday.

Loafers were as numerous in Allegheny, yesterday, as bees in honey time.

House Burned.—A house near Willow Grove Station, on the Panhandle Railroad, was burned down on last Thursday evening. We did not learn how the fire originated.

Four New Stations, Agnew, Bellvue, Rosedale and Superior, have been established on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway, between Allegheny City and Leetsdale.

Coroner's Business.—During the month of April Coroner Clawson held eleven inquests. Three of the deaths were decided to have been the result of heart disease, and the remainder were accidental.

The Allegheny Schools.—A regular monthly meeting of the Allegheny Board of School Controllers will be held tomorrow evening at 7½ o'clock, in the Common Council chamber, city building.

Fire Alarm Extension.—During this week will be commenced the work of extending the Fire Alarm Telegraph to the Sharpsburg bridge, in the Eighteenth ward, to the Twenty-Third ward, and beyond the Oakland Car Station.

Stockholders Meeting—Pittsburgh Female College.—The stockholders of the Pittsburgh Female College are requested to meet this afternoon at three o'clock, in the College office, for the purpose of electing Trustees for the ensuing year.

Mrs. Barclay, of Chicago, will commence her seventh series of Health Lectures to ladies this afternoon, at four o'clock, in the U. P. Church, (Rev. Coleman,) on Wilkins street. Subject: "Early Physical Decline of the American Women."

The Sunday Liquor Law.—The Sunday liquor law continues to be broken with impunity by tavern and saloon keepers. The usual Sunday traffic was carried on in both cities yesterday, the law breakbreakers apparently fearing none, or not troubling themselves about detection.

Bursted.—The water pipe on Strawberry alley, near Smithfield street, bursted on Saturday, but before any serious damage ensued therefrom, Street Commissioner Hunter who was in the vicinity at the time, had the water turned off.

Fifth Avenue Bank.—All stockholders are invited to attend the next meeting, on Tuesday, May 4th, at 8 o'clock P. M., above Whitehead's Grocery Store, on Pride street and Fifth avenue, to nominate a Board of Directors for the ensuing year.

R. A. SCHNBEL,
Secretary pro tem.

Lecture on Temperance.—Rev. E. B. Webster, of Noblestown and Fayette M. E. church, lectured at Oakdale, on the Panhandle Railroad, on Monday evening, 26th ult, on the subject of "Temperance." The lecture was very fine, but the evening was rather unpleasant and the audience was not large as it otherwise would have been.

Illegal Liquor Selling.—John Brown made information before Alderman Lynch, on Saturday, against John Bitner, for selling liquor on Sunday. The accused keeps a saloon on Ohio street, Allegheny. He was arrested, and after a hearing gave bail for his appearance at court.

A Sunday Row.—Yesterday afternoon a party of young men got into a row at the drove yards, in the Second ward, Allegheny, and disturbed the neighborhood so much that the attention of the police was called to the matter. Four of the parties, the ringleaders, were arrested and placed in the lock up. The others afterward quietly dispersed.

Alleged False Pretence.—Elizabeth Sears made information before Alderman Lynch on Saturday morning against John McGurk, for false pretence. The prosecutrix resides in Lawrenceville. She alleges that McGurk sold her a cow for sixty-two dollars, representing the animal to be sound and healthy, when the reverse was the case. A warrant was issued.

Aggravated Assault.—Catharine Keefer made information, Saturday morning, before Alderman McMasters against Samuel Lamont, Jerry McNeal and Samuel Miller for aggravated assault and battery. The prosecutrix alleges the defendants came to her residence in Indiana township, a few evenings since, and cruelly beat her and a little son without cause or provocation. Warrants issued.

Monthly Fire Report.—The Superintendent of the Fire Alarm Telegraph reports that during the month of April eleven fires occurred, involving an aggregate loss of $223,955; insurance $74,800. The largest fire of the month was that at the oil refinery of Forsythe Bros., in the Eighteenth ward, which broke out on the 14th and continued four days. One man, as yet unknown, perished in this fire.

County Taxes.—The tax duplicates for the present year, were opened for the receipt of taxes at the office of Mr. Dennistion, County Treasurer, and tax payers should, if they desire to save the five per cent discount authorized by law, call immediately and pay their taxes, as toward the close of the month there is always a rush and jam, and frequently a large number of persons cannot be accomodated.

Serious Charge.—Catharine Sullivan made information before Alderman McMasters, Saturday, against Thomas Conreich, for attempt to commit a rape. The prosecutrix resides with her husband in the Eighth ward, and the defendant, it is stated, is a boarder with them. The alleged offence is said to have been committed a few evenings since, during the the absence of her husband. A warrant was issued.

Lecture.—Miss Julia Crouch, of Mystic, Conn., will speak at Clinton, Noblestown, Fayetteville, Hall's School House, Robinson township, No, 4 School House, Moon township, and at Candor, Washington county on the 20th, 21st, 22nd, 24th, 25th and 26th of May. Miss Crouch is a very pleasant and eloquent speaker, and as a lecturer has been very successful in New York and in the New England states. She has three lectures, the subjects of which are "The Woman Question," "Wisdom and Folly" and "Temperance and Woman's work."

Burglary.—Sometime Friday night, or Saturday morning, the grocery store of Martin Feely, on Butler street, in the 17th Ward was broken open and entered by a burglar, who abstracted therefrom about ten dollars in cash and a new suit of clothes, which Martin had just purchased the day previous. The burglar left no clue by which he is likely to be identified.

Robbery.—A boarder at Bender's Hotel, Water street, between Smithfield and Grant, was robbed on Friday night by a fellow boarder of a pocketbook containing $50 and a valuable watch. The thief is known, but his exact whereabouts at this time remains a secret to the man who lost the money, as well as to the officers who are in search of him.

Runaway.—Two horses attached to an ale wagon, taking fright at a locomotive on the Connellsville road, dashed up Grant street from the wharf at a furious rate of speed. They made a direct line for Mr. Charles Houchs' drug store and were within two feet of going through the handsome show window, when they were suddenly checked by a wheel of the wagon catching on an iron post sustaining an awning. As it was no damage was done.

His Name.—The name of the man who died from injuries received on the Fort Wayne Railroad, in Allegheny, was John Wilhemy. He was a native of Switzerland, and had been in this country but a short time. Those with whom he became acquainted here speak of him as an educated man, but of a melancholy disposition. At the time of the accident he was traveling to New Brighton, where he expected to procure a situation. He had no relatives in this country.

The blunders of the Associated Press agent are sometimes so ludicrous that their absurdity prevents the mischief they might otherwise do. In our Saturday's issue Petroleum was quoted at 35½ francs in Antwerp, while the price is probably 53½—the dispatch came to us at midnight, too late for the inspection of the commercial editor, and was not detected by the proof reader—who, however, was faithful to the copy from the telegraph office. We have complained to the agent of the Associated Press, and hope, almost against hope, that we shall have no more such gross blundering.

The Fifth Avenue Bank.—All the stock of the proposed new bank for the accommodation of the Fifth avenue merchants and others doing business in outer wards, was taken on Friday through the exertions of Mr. R. A. Schnable and the books closed. To-morrow evening the subscribers will hold a meeting at the corner of Pride and Fifth avenue, over Whitheads, to nominate a Board of Directors. It is very important that there be a full attendance at the meeting as a judicious election of the officers will be largely conducive to the prosperity of the bank. The stock of the new bank is $100,000, principally taken by Fifth avenue merchants and manufacturers.

The Widows and Orphans Benefit Life Insurance Company of New York, although a new company, has most of the advantages of an old one; its managers are among the most experienced life insurance directors in the United States, and Mr. Starr, the general agent, is also general agent of one of the oldest and best mutual companies in the country, and one, of which the widows and orphans is an offshoot and protege. Mr. Henry W. Strickler, the agent here, whose advertisement will be found in another place, is so well known through his connection with one of our most prominent dry goods houses, and his long residence in the city, that other guarantee of the high character and integrity of the company is scarcely necessary.

Horrible Outrage—A Woman Taken into a Saloon and Her Person Violated by Six Men.

About ten o'clock last night Ellen Dawson, while in company with Jon Jackson, was induced to go into Jimmy Donovan's saloon, at the corner of High and Ross streets, where, she alleges, she was outraged by six men. As soon as she entered the saloon the door was locked, and when she attempted to call for help, she alleges that one of the party placed his hand over her mouth and prevented her from making a noise. After they had accomplished their designs, she succeeded in calling the attention of the police by her cries, and several officers effected an entrance to the house and succeeded in capturing four of the party, namely, Thos. Murphy, Jno. Jackson, Thos. McMiniman and John Bayne, and conducted them to the lock-up. Donovan and his bar-keeper, who, she alleges, also participated in the outrage, could not be found.

It is due to the parties charged with this offense, to state that Ellen's reputation is of a very questionable character, and her statement is scarcely to be relied on.

Fire in Westmoreland.

At Hannastown, a few miles from Greensburg, Westmoreland County, on Tuesday of last week, a fire destroyed the frame barn, shed, warehouse and large pig pen filled with oak lumber, belonging to Mr. Daniel Welty. Four horses and a colt, and two cows and a calf, were burned. The barn also contained a carriage, buggy, spring wagon, two sleighs, eight sets of harness, saddles and bridles, two hundrep bushels of wheat, about one hundred and fifty bushels of oats, and several tons of hay, which were entirely consumed. The contents of the warehouse destroyed, consisted of a large lot of groceries, hardware, queensware, hats and caps, boots and shoes, and many other articles usually stored in a warehouse. The dwelling house and store is situated about twenty-five feet from the buildings that were burned, and was saved from the devouring element by wetting blankets and throwing them on the roof and gable end of the building. The fire was evidently the work of an incendiary, as none of the family were at the barn after dark on the evening previous to the fire. The loss is heavy, and there is only a small insurance.

Map of Lyon County, Kansas.

Mr. E. P. Bancroft, Real Estate Agent, Emporia, Kansas, has just published a splended new map, 45x60 inches, of Lyon county, in that State. The townships are marked by different colors, and the name of every land owner is engraved on his land. The map shows every stream, town, road, railroad, school house, mill and farm in the county. It is well and correctly executed, and should be in the possession of every one owning land, or in quest of a settlement in those most fertile and flourishing valleys of the Neosho and Cottonwood. When spread out the map looks like a little State itself. It is sold at the very low price of $2.50 for the pocket edition, and $5.00 when mounted and varnished.

Fire on Fifth Avenue.

About half past three o'clock yesterday morning, an alarm of fire was sounded from box 24, corner of Fifth avenue and Smithfield street. The cause of the alarm was a fire in the law office occupied by Scott Furguson, Esq., in C. B. Seeley's building opposite the GAZETTE office, Fifth avenue. The fire originated in the room mentioned from some unknown cause, and when discovered had burned a large hole through the floor near Mr. Furguson's book case, destroying the case and about two hundred dollars worth of law books. The fire having burned through the floor of the office communicated with the tobacco and cigar store of John Sherer, which is on the first floor of the building immediately under Mr. Ferguson's office, but was discovered before any serious damage was done. It was discovered by a lady occupying the attic chamber, who was awakened by the smoke, and being unable to get down stairs in consequence thereof, she ran out on the roof and gave the alarm. The fire department responded promptly, and soon after their arrival subdued the flames, but in doing so necessarily destroyed a considerable quantity of goods in the tobacco store by the flood of water poured into the building. Mr. T. M. Bayne's office, which is in the rear of the building, was also flooded with water, and his books, papers and carpet considerably damaged. We heard no estimate of the loss Mr. Sherer sustained, but presume the entire loss will not exceed two thousand dollars. The buildings are insured. and Mr. Sherer's loss is fully covered by insurance.

Distressing Occurrence—Two Boys Shot.

Friday of last week, about noon, at Oakdale Station, on the Panhandle Railroad, twelve miles from the city, a boy nine years of age, son of Samuel Leicley, Sr., was mortally, and another son, a year or two older, severely wounded by the careless use of a fire arm. On the day previous the boys referred to, with a brother, having procured a pistol, amused themselves in firing caps, subsequently continuing their sport with the use of powder, and before the weapon was laid aside for the day one of the lads placed three shot in the barrel. The next morning the boys continued their play with the pistol, and while two stood off at a distance, the third, forgetting or not being aware of the fact of the weapon being charged with shot, fired it at his brothers, with the result stated. One of the shot passed through the fleshy part of the left arm of the eldest boy, inflicting a very painful wound; the remaining two took effect in the body of the youngest, one entering just below the eye, and lodging, it is supposed, in the brain, and the other entering the breast and penetrating the heart, causing his death within an hour.

The Streets.

The present efficient Street Commissioners of the First and Second Districts, Messrs. Hunter and McFaden, are vigorously pushing forward the work of repairing and cleaning the streets of the filth and mud accumulated during the winter months. Following are the expenses in these districts, as shown by the pay rolls, for the month of April:

Mr. Hunter, First District.....$2,116 38
Mr. McFaden, Second District... 2,093 57

The Street Committee met on Saturday evening and directed that the bills be paid at once.

John M. Cooper & Co., Brass Founders and Steam Pump Builders, Corner of Pike and Thirteenth Streets.

The manufacturing establishment of Messrs. John M. Cooper & Co. has long held high place among the well conducted and carefully magaged workshops of industry which contribute so largely to the commercial importance of the city. Established several years ago by practical mechanics, men who thoroughly understood every department of the manufacturing business they engaged in, the success of the firm was ensured from the outset. Steadily increasing in their facilities, furnishing such work as afforded the largest measure of satisfaction, the firm to-day find themselves occupying leading position in their line of business. At their extensive foundry and workshops, corner of Pike and Thirteenth streets, a large number of competent and skilled mechanics of long experience are constantly employed in manufacturing steam pumps, finished brass goods for steam and water, pipe work for fitting up rolling mills, blast furnaces and oil refineries. It has long been a part of the business system of this house to use nothing but the best materials, employ the very best labor, and to pay especial attention to every piece of work which leaves their shops, so as to sustain the high mechanical reputation they enjoy. The improved boiler feed balance wheel steam pumps, which Messrs. Cooper & Co., manufacture, have in long use been demonstrated to be vastly superior to any others in use. They are simple in construction, substantial, durable and compact. It is of their own style and pattern, and embraces many novel features which render it superior in use, as has been demonstrated by practical tests in the two years it has been adopted in rolling mills, refineries, blast furnaces, coal mines, etc. The universal testimony of those who have tested its power, capacity and durability is, that it is the best pump now built. One peculiarity is that the valves and seats can be removed for repairs or duplicated, causing but temporary loss of time. The chambers can either be packed with rope or brass, being equally well adapted for both. At the late destructive conflagration at Forsythe's Oil Refinery, in the Eighteenth ward, one of these pumps worked steadily during all the time and supplied more than one-half the immense quantity af water used in staying the fearful element. The balance wheel steam pumps are manufactured in various sizes. We noticed an enormous one, No. 9, now being made at the works, which was as pretty and perfect a piece of simple and substantial machinery as we had ever observed. It is designed for a colliery, to force the water out of the mines.

The next leading specialty of the firm is the careful manufacture of general fittings for rolling mills, blast furnaces, and oil refineries. The care taken in this department has secured the largest measure of confidence and patronage for the firm, and many of the most complete mills, furnaces and refineries in the neighborhood contain in their machinery ample evidence of the superiority of these manufacturers. In conclusion we earnestly commend Messrs. Cooper & Co. to the patronage of our readers, as fair dealing and honorable business gentlemen and experienced practical mechanics.

Amusements.

NEW OPERA HOUSE.—For nearly five hundred consecutive nights the grand fairy trick pantomine of "Humpty Dumpty" obtained large and delighted audiences in New York city, and even at the end was drawn off while being played to admirable houses. The pantomine is so full of changes, so grotesque and farcical, so dazzling and mystifying, and so full of clever points and mechanical effects that it cannot fail to prove entertaining and amusing to an unprecedented degree. At great expense Manager Canning has arranged for its presentation during a brief special season at the Opera House under the immediate direction of Messrs. Ellsler and Danier, and by their celebrated pantominic troupe. The scenery used is entirely new, the work of Mr. Palmer and a number of eastern artists, while all the properties, decorations and stage scenery have been specially made for the occasion. On Wednesday and Saturday afternoons grand fashionable matinees for ladies and the little folks will be held. We look to see the Opera Heuse crowded during the rush, as the food for fun and amusement to be supplied is inexhaustible.

THE ACADEMY.—Miss Augusta L. Dargon's intoduction to a Pittsburgh audience as a reader under the auspices of the Mercantile Library Association, on Thursday evening next at the Academy, promises to prove the grand event of the closing season. The programme is well selected and we can promise in advance that the lady will find as high favor in the new role as she has found in that of the actress, a profession she is desirous of abandoning for a more congenial field.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—The attendance at the "Old Drury" has been unusually large during the past week, and, from the brilliant attractions this week, it will probably continue large. Mr. Williams gives a first class variety entertainment, and his establishment fully merits the liberal patronage it is receiving. Miss Jennie Engle and W. B. Cavenaugh are announced.

POPULAR LECTURES.—Dr. Gleason of Philadelphia, the well known and attractive lecturer, will deliver a series of popular discourses in Lafayette Hall during the present week. The first lecture of the couese will be given this evening, the subject being, "Digestion, causes and cure of General Debility," additional interest will be added to the entertainment by the anatomical specimens used in illustrating.

The lecture this evening will be free, but to the remainder, twenty-five cents admission will be charged. Those who can possibly do so should attend, all the lectures from which they cannot fail to receive much pleasure and profit,

"On a High."

Thomas Hill, a gentleman from the rural districts, came to the city Saturday, and resolved to see the sights. In his peregrinations he visited a house on the hill, where he obtained more "benzine" than he could carry with ease and safety, and the result was he became drunk and disorderly. In the house was a young nymph, who became alarmed at Hill's boisterous manner and called an officer and requested him to arrest the noisy man. Hill was accordingly taken into custody and furnished lodgings at the lockup until yesterday morning, when he was required to pay a fine of five dollars and costs. He liquidated the bill and departed.

W. W. Moorhead, 81 Market street, would invite the attention of all his customers and the public, to the closing out at private sale all the goods yet remaining unsold. Great bargains can be secured next week in Embroideries, Laces and fancy goods. 6

MORTGAGES.

The same day fifteen mortgages were filed of record.

[From the Pittsburgh Medical News.]

Standard Principles.

There should be standard principles in medicine as well as philosophy.

Without a "zero" to start from, or a "standard" from which to calculate the deviations, the principle and practice of medicine, in fact the principles of any art or science, cannot be satisfactorily elucidated or properly understood.

The art and science of medicine is divided into several special departments, each having their standard principles, which form the basis for their scientific elucidations.

Every particular part of the human body has had its average natural properties, constituents, quantities, &c., reduced upon scientific principles to a standard of nearly definite proportions in health.

This serves for the more correct elucidation of disease by comparison and measurement of the deviations from the healthy standard. Thus the average proportionate constituents of the blood in health being reduced to a standard, any considerable deviation from this standard quality of the blood is disease.

The same in the urinary excretion; the average natural proportionate constituents of the urine in health form the standard, any considerable deviation from which basis, either in proportion or constituents, exhibits disease.

This latter is a practical fact which we are daily demonstrating at our office, No. 132 Grant street, and which any one can have tested to their entire satisfaction, by sending a standard specimen (morning urine) for scientific analysis and examination.

If we fail to detect the "morbid conditions," if any; or to determine the nature of the disease, or the organs affected, as the lungs, liver, stomach, brain, kidneys, womb, &c., there shall be no charge made.

Be sure to give the age of the patient at the same time, as the urine varies in proportionate constituents in the different ages of infancy, childhood, manhood and old age.

The name and residence of each patient should be given also, in order to avoid confusion of cases where medicines are taken. L. OLDSHUE, M. D.

Pittsburgh Teachers' Association.

The regular monthly meeting of the Pittsburgh Teachers' Association was held on Saturday morning, May 1st, 1869, at 10 o'clock, in the High School building, corner of Wood street and Sixth avenue. The exercises were opened with singing "Come Roam in the Woodlands," by the Allegheny Quartette Club.

Mr. Burt, of the Ralston district, President elect, was then introduced and delivered an inaugural address. He urged upon the teachers the importance of improvement in their professions, and thought the Institute one of the surest and best methods of improvement.

At the conclusion of Mr. Burt's address Mr. Eaton offered a resolution instructing the Chair to appoint a person to read all communications addressed to the Institute, provided such communications were accompanied with the name of the writer.

The resolution was adopted and the reader will be announced at the next meeting.

The Quartette Club then sung "Work for the Night is Coming," after which the Association adjourned.

The Raid on the Mansion Heuse.

J. S. Robinson, proprietor of the Mansion House, whose arrest we noticed in Saturday's GAZETTE, had a hearing Saturday morning and was fined $25 and costs, which he paid and was discharged. The other parties arrested in the house at the time the raid was made, were at Mr. Robinson's request, discharged. Robinson having left a deposit of $300 with Capt. Reid, for his appearance Saturday morning, appeared promptly and, we are informed, admitted the charge to be well founded and requested the Mayor to impose such a fine, under the new ordinance relative to houses of that character, as he might deem necessary, and not return the case to Court, and promised to abate the nuisance complained of.

The well-known health-promoting ingredients from which they are made, and their invaluable merits as a remedy for indigestion and all its consequent ailments, and the preventive qualities against diseases arising from climatic changes, miasmatic influences and imperfect secretions, are so widely known and so honorably endorsed, that we trust no one will forego the advantages of their use.
